Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 16 filed 7/23/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. See argument below.

- I. Applicant argues that DeMil teaches increasing floral fertility by treating plants between floral induction and the end of inflorescence. Applicant argues that the number of grapes are increased during this period. Applicant argues that this is opposite to the instant invention which is directed to increasing the sugar content of grapes. Applicant further argues that the instant invention discloses that the vines of the grapes are treated when the grapes are on the vine. Examiner maintains that Applicant provides no support for treating the vines of grapes when grapes are on the vine. In addition, since the periods including the end of flowering to the formation of grapes is not distinguished, DeMil teaches treating the vine when grapes are on the vine.
- II. Claims 15,17,19,20 are allowable for reason on record.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
